Planning a trip to California's Santa Monica?
Try one of these new city tours

Perry's Historical Bike Tour starts at Blazing Saddles cafe on Santa Monica Pier and ends an hour and a half later at Venice Beach. The tour leader's commentary is transmitted to the headsets of participants. $30 per person; 00 1 310 372 3138

Santa Monica is about to become the first North American city to launch iToors, a free travel guide for MP3 players. From December guides will be available from the visitor information center on Main Street or at www.santamonica.com

An alternative to walking the city is to take a two-hour group tour on a Segway Human Transporter, a self-balancing (or not, as President Bush discovered) electric-powered transportation device. $75 per person; 00 1 310 395 1395
